of Ch's House -

☞The following interesting scene took place in the Army of the Potomac not long since. A chaplain wanted a horse, and without much ceremony took one belonging to a Virginia farmer, but his possession of the property was very brief, as the following conversation shows: The chaplain rode into the presence of his superior officer, and was asked where he got that horse? The chaplain says, "Down on the road there." The officer remarked, "You had better take him back again." The chaplain says, "Why Jesus Christ, when he was on earth, took an ass from his owner whereon to ride into Jerusalem." The officer replied, "You are not Jesus Christ; that is not an ass; you are not on your way to Jerusalem, and the sooner you restore that horse to his owner, the better it will be for you."
